Collecte

Dieu créateur, de qui toute famille au ciel et sur terre tient son nom.

Tu nous as enracinés et rattachés à la terre dans une alliance d'amour, et tu nous as donné, par ton Esprit la force de proclamer ce qui est vrai, avec amour, et de cheminer avec justice et constance.

Dans ta bonté, accorde à ton peuple de poursuivre son pèlerinage dans l'unité; rends-le plus fort et guide-le afin que chacun aide l'autre dans l'atteinte de la pleine stature du Christ, notre lumière et notre vie. Amen.

Lectures suggérées

Dieu créateur, tu nous a comblés de toutes ces bonnes choses qui viennent de la terre.

Reçois maintenant ces dons, fruits de ta création, que nous t'offrons, et nourris-nous du Pain de Vie, ton Fils Jésus Christ, notre Seigneur. Amen.

EXPLANATORY NOTE/BACKGROUND INFORMATION

In 1971 the General Synod of the Anglican Church of Canada declared June 21 as a "National Indian Day of Prayer" and requested all dioceses to commend this day to parishes and congregations throughout Canada. In 1995, participants of the Sacred Assembly in Hull, Quebec - a national meeting of Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal people - revived an earlier campaign to observe June 21 as a national day to recognize the contributions of Aboriginal peoples to Canada. The summer solstice, the longest day of the year, falls on June 21. For generations, this was a sacred day for many Aboriginal people on which they celebrated their culture and heritage. On June 13, 1996, Governor General Romeo Leblanc declared June 21 National Aboriginal Day.

In Winnipeg in 1994, representatives of the Indigenous people gathered and made a Covenant to build a truly Anglican Indigenous Church in Canada, claiming their place and responsibility "as equal partners in a new shared journey of healing, moving towards wholeness and justice."

In July of 2001, the General Synod of the Anglican Church of Canada commended for study and implementation the working document A New Agape: A Plan of Anglican Work in Support of a New Partnership between Indigenous and non-Indigenous Anglicans. This plan expresses the commitment of the Anglican Church of Canada to a new relationship with the Indigenous (or Aboriginal) Peoples of Canada based on a partnership which focuses on the cultural, spiritual, social, and economic independence of Indigenous communities.

From the mid-1990s on, FWM and ACIP have worked together to produce worship resources for the National Aboriginal Day of Prayer. This has become a truly Anglican Church of Canada wide celebration. The Council of General Synod of May 2009 authorized for trial use and evaluation the Propers here attached, with the intention of bringing these to the General Synod along with the motion to include the National Aboriginal Day of Prayer in the Calendar of the Book of Alternative Services. Doing so under the heading of "Other Major Feasts That Take Precedence of a Sunday" reflects the high place of this day as it is already being marked across the Anglican Church of Canada as well as our commitment to its future celebration.
